

Free Webinar on Palaeo-Oncology

Thursday 30th September 2021, 2-6 pm Athens time

UNDER THE AUSPICES OF The University of Patras

Speakers:

Dr Piers Mitchell, The University of Cambridge, U.K.,
The Use of Imaging to Optimise the Diagnosis of Malignancy in Past Populations

Professor Andreas G. Nerlich, Institute für Pathologie, München, Germany, Palaeopathography – a novel approach to tumour diagnosis in history: the example of a Roman head from a South German collection

Emeritus Professor Nikolas Pavlidis, The University of Ioannina, Greece and Dean, European School of Oncology College,
The Treatment of Cancer in Greek Antiquity

Dr Stella Geronikolou,
Biomedical Research Foundation Academy of Athens, Greece,
Food safety and control in antiquity

Moderators and Commentators:

Spyros Retsas, President, EEIO-ESHO and Professor Dimitrios Kardamakias, University of Patras, Greece

Apply for registration at

https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSezFMSvqsMOY-b1RxoxwHi2j0jISxe_7zJRnPFYKO0Ll1Ccmw/viewform